Hi Claire,

My first impression is that that's great. My only question is a logistical one, you have 3 of those folks listed as remote, is that all there will be on the phone? Our webinar software/call-in line can handle 15, and so far that should be more than enough. We have another service that can handle more, it's just more complicated and tends to create more user error.

To your other email about participation, the email list also includes folks that we are just keeping in the loop. Here's who we anticipate attending:

ECY

Helen Bresler
Melissa Gildersleeve
Maybe a couple others, I'm checking on this now.

ODEQ

Ranei Nomura
Steve Schnurbusch
Daniel Turner (remote)
Jon Gasik (remote)
Andy Ulrich (remote)

TFT

Joe Furia
Karin Power
Tim Wigington
David Primozych

WP

Neil Mullane
Myself
Bobby Cochran

Bobby & Carrie,

I hope I you don't mind that I've invited a few other EPA staff to attend the Medford permit meeting. I'm realizing the crowd could be a little big, but I'd rather have EPA staff take advantage of this great (and extremely convenient) opportunity to hear the details on this important trade, and ask their questions where the experts can provide answers, or at least offer a good discussion.

Here's who has accepted my meeting invitation, by program area:

TMDL Unit:

Bill Stewart (remote)

Martha Turvey

Jenny Wu

Laurie Mann

Dave Croxton

Alan Henning (maybe & remote)

Claire Schary

Ben Cope (water quality modeler supporting the TMDL unit)

NPDES Unit:

Susan Poulsom

Karen Burgess

Dru Keenan

Misha Vakoc (she works on stormwater permits)

Enforcement:

Dustan Bott

Chae Park

Regional Counsel:

Dave Allnut (tentative & then only part of the meeting)

Kelly Gable (remote -- she works for us from Region 3 in Philadelphia)

Others:

Mark Macintyre (press officer who wants to learn about this to be ready when we need his help)

Gina Bonifacino (Puget Sound Team member working on EPA response to Treaty Rights at Risk issues)

Robert Marsh (student intern supporting our Puget Sound team and agricultural issues)
